

SOUNDJS

For today's presentation I chose Soundjs because I wanted to try something different. I have not had a website with a button that plays a song. I've always wanted to have a website that played music, kind of like the old Myspace where you could add music to your profile. I was hoping Soundjs would show me how to do that, but it seems to be more complicated than I anticipated. I'm a huge fan of videogames so I made a Diablo website. The video is me playing with my crusader, and the music is from the first Diablo game. Hope you enjoy it.
